Valhalla #6, 16 August 1968 (theoretically), is a joint project of Project Analysis Corporation and the DWE Press (and is DWE Pub #114). It is a journal of postal Diplomacy and a sub-division of Strategy and Tactics (available at $7.50 per year from Wagner), intended as an information media for wargamers of all interests. This issue has been delayed slightly by the visit last weekend of Rod Walker, editor of Erechwon and sundry other journals and Diplomacy sub-editor of S&T. During his three day visit no wargames of any description were played, though a 40-hour verbal fencing match was held, but your editor did take Walker on an entertaining tour of Youngstown's suburbs which, it is sure, Walker will not permit the editor nor anyone else to forget. Ever. At any rate, that's this issue's excuse for being late.

Readers are reminded that listings in any of our service departments are without charge, and those listed need not subscribe to either S&T or Valhalla.

"#Diplomacy" is a registered trademark of Games Research, Inc., 48 Wareham St., Boston, Mass. 02118, from whom the game may be purchased for $7.50, postpaid.

Readers interested in inexpensive, rapid diplomacy games are encouraged to enter games in the new Ragnarok series. First game costs $3, succeeding games (entered before the $3 game reaches the end of 1902) are only $1 each. Players may designate the country they would like to play, or indicate a group of countries they would like, or list preferences in some order, or in general indicate in any manner they choose what game position(s) would please them most. Complete information can be found in Valhalla #5.

At present one Ragnarok game is due to commence, but others are being held back to avoid having too many games with the same 4 or 5 people in them.

Also needed are replacement players for the Ragnarok games. Replacements will enter games at no charge should a starting player default in the course of the game, and will in the meantime receive information on all games. Interested readers should write John Koning, at the address listed above.

MOVE ANALYSIS: The Russians could afford to retreat to Livonia rather than to Moscow because the English piece in St. Petersburg is a fleet (which cannot, of course, move inland) rather than an army. The Army in Livonia is more flexible than the same piece in Moscow.

Germany's construction of a thir fleet makes that country a major seapower, with half of its six forces in fleets. This is a rare development so early in the game as it reduces Germany's flexibility. So much of that nation's boundaries are land-locked that a heavy investment in seapower early in the game is rare indeed.

LONDON "The peaceful fleet being commissioned at London is to keep foreign fishing fleets out of our waters. Except for liberating Sweden we are ready for a peace conference!" -- B.B.

KIEL (5 November 1902) At ceremonies attended by the Grand Peerocrat, Johann von Ralstonstadt, here today the 3rd Peerireich Battle Fleet was commissioned. With the commissioning of the P.S. Puebloberg the last of the fleet's battlecruisers has been completed. The new fleet consists of four battlecruisers; in addition to the Puebloberg, the Koningberg, the Heidelberg, and the Lindenberg. Various smaller cruisers, destroyers, monitoring vessels equipped with radiopeeriphone listening devices, various anti-greenbean protection equipment, and special anti-gopher repellents make these some of the most effective warships in existence. Following the commissioning of the Puebloberg by the Baroness Kristina von Schanesberg, the Grand Peerocrat's statement directed against France in which he demanded France return to Germany her two former possessions of Tierra del Guño and Tristain and Dristain (two small island groups located in the Waffin Sea) was delivered. "Among these two small territories rests the state of Franco-German Relations. Until these territories are returned to Germany the Peerireich will not recognize France's claims for aid and assistance against the perfidious Italians."

LESSER PERILAND (Los Angeles, California) With the helpful mediation of the Great Gopher himself Peerireich and representatives from the Dual Monarchy met here to iron out a non-aggression treaty and neutrality pact for the Peeristine Alps. Following a round of discussions around a variety of more or less accurate maps of Europe, Peerijavo, Grand Sevastapol, Franciana, and Tujunga, interrupted by arrival of the latest comic books and timely state documents disguised as student papers, the representatives of the two states reached the following conclusions: Pepperdine College is really painted in a shade of pale greene paisley and not greenebeane greene at all; Hans Morgenthau should be hired to conduct a seminar in Peeriography at the College next year; and IBM really ought to give a computer to Pepperdine College (though not too advanced a model). In special ceremonies attended by college chancellor Daniel J. Aldersome the name of Pepperdine College was changed to Peeridine College.

STILL LESSER PERILAND (DWE) Less than a week after its rechristening Peeridine College has again received a new name. Acting under the direct authority of Governor Ronald Reagan and on the advice of Dr. James B. Konant, noted educator, and Hyman G. Rickunder, noted atomic submarine authority (which of course qualifies him to speak on education), agents of the state militia have rechristened the school as "California Home for the Bewildered." Charter inmates include former college chancellor Daniel J. Aldersome, former Professor Jerry A. Poornelle, former Great Gopher Conrad von Metzke, former olympic star Jack Greener-than-thou, and former Emperor of Southern California Lawrence O'Peery. The new school is now quite exclusive (admission by invitation only), and invitations are issued only by the state militia (usually around midnight). No living man is known to have refused an invitation.

MUNICH (7 November 1902) Marshal von Bulow, Chief of the Peeristaff, arrived here this morning to take charge of Bavaria, after the Grand Peericrat revealed in a nationally peerivised broadcast last evening that Bavaria had been infiltrated by an international conspiracy of the Bavarian Illuminati. Peerireich police and armed forces moved to seize key points in the state in the wake of an attempted coup d'etat by some Bavarian militia. After occupying the P.D.Q. Bach Memorial Theater in Bad Musikburgen, and the Wagnerian Festival House at Bayreith, the Peerireich troops moved to seize the three largest breweries of Bavaria, reported to be the headquarters of the conspiracy. Heavy fighting was reported at all three breweries:

1) NELSONSTOUTH AUS, after a six hour battle here Peerireich troops succeeded in breaking into the vat areas where they found the evil Baron Dirac Nelson hiding behind a 200,000 gallon vat of Bavarian Red Top... indicating that rumors that the Baron was in the red were all too true.

2) VONMETZKE OLYMPIAN ENTERPRISES: after a very short skirmish the Peerireich forces broke in here only to find a pair of size 14 tongs, a slightly used recording of Bach's Music to Scratch Iguanas By, and a diet Popsi bottle.

3) KONINGSCHLITZANDOTHERROTTENGUK: This massive den of scheming was literally blown to bits during the assault and the only thing remaining was millions of scraps of battered paper bearing such intriguing comments as: "Bob Lake can't swim...", "Charles Reinsel doesn't believe in evolution", "Larry Peery doesn't believe in Santa Claus," "Jack Greene Jr. is really Joseph Stalin come back to life...", "Margaret Gemignani used to be a stripper by the name of...", "Rod Walker is really Tojo...". All this only added confusion to the search for the real heads of the Bavarian Illuminati.

Meanwhile, all Peeriroich forces have been ordered to search out more members of the Illuminati, a sinister conspiracy that probably originated in Rantoul, or Pleasant Hill, or Concord, or Evanston...

SUFFIELD EXPERIMENTAL STATION (Ralstonstadt - 13 November 1902)

Dr. Jon McCallum, Director of the Station, announced today that researchers at the Station had perfected a general anti-serum that would be effective against gopher bites, greenebean rash, and Peeritalasis. The new serum, known as ANTIDIP-A, is composed of a mixture of old Graustarks, fumigated ADAG's, love beads worn by Tiny Tim, a Margaret Gemignani letter, and a hair from Rod Walker's mustache. It works very well.

CAPE CASSANOVA (23 November 1902) Everything was hush-hush here as work was rushed to launch a special new satellite, TURKEYBIRD I, in time for Thanksgiving. The new satellite, which circles the world every 21 minutes, sends out a message rumored to consist of the following: "DRAFT BOARDMAN, DRAFT BOARDMAN!!!" Just what this means in this election year remains to be seen. (((1902 was an election year?)))

GAME OPENINGS & MISCELLANIA

- 1) Dunevegan, a new magazine from Norman McLeod (906 Kimberwicke Rd, McLean, Va. 22101) offers games in batches of four: 4?/$3 or 8/$5.
- 2) Xenogogic is opening another game aimed primarily at new players. $3 to Larry Peery (4567 Virginia Ave., San Diego, Calif. 92115).
- 3) Big Brother has, at press time, 2 openings in its 10th and final game, but they will probably fill fast so you'd be advised to inquire first. Fee is $6 to new (to BB) players, $4.50 to former BB players, and $3 to current BB players. Charles Reinsel (120 8th Avenue, Clarion, Penna. 16214.)
- 4) Charles Turner's Armageddonia may cease publication after the next issue, when its editor leaves California for Chicago. Games in the magazine will then be taken over by John McCallum's Brobdingnag. Brob has recently come out with issues even more excellent than usual, especially for new players, concerned with rule interpretations and rating systems. Get It! (10/$1 from John McCallum, "A Qtas," S.E.S., Ralston, Alberta, Canada.)
- 5) International Enquirer is alive and available from Clif Ollila, Apt. 6, 1501 11th Ave, S., Minneapolis, Minn. 55404.
